

ConStellation strives to be a fun, family-friendly, and safe place. We expect everyone here to be treated with respect. We will not condone harassment among our community. If you feel that you have been harassed, you may report it to any ConStellation staff member or at Convention Registration or Convention Operations.

Harassment includes, but is not limited, to:

- Unwanted physical contact
- Catcalls
- Heckling
- Sexual innuendo
- Photography without consent
- Stalking

If you would like to take a picture of an individual or touch someones costume, ask first. If someone asks you to stop doing something in reference to them, stop doing it. If you see something that creeps you out, feel free to report it.

Every claim of harassment will be treated seriously, looked into, and appropriate action will be taken (keeping in mind the wishes of those who were harassed.) Note that our primary concern is that people both feel safe, and are safe. Please see our Security Policy for detailed information on the possible consequences of infractions.

This policy applies to everyone in the convention spaces including attendees, convention staff, convention guests, vendors, presenters, and hotel staff. If you feel one or more of the hotel guest(s) (not with the convention) are harassing others, let us know and we will talk with the hotel.

We're all here to have a good time. We should be able to feel safe and enjoy the convention. Lets help each other out so we can all have a great time. Play nice!
